Transition with Unity

By Sharon Rudolph

Through the challenges we face, the joys we embrace, the disappointments we endure, and the resilience we develop, God crafts our experiences to cultivate our personal growth.

If there is one thing the Warrior Commission has experience in, it is transition. We are Transition Specialists. (More on this on the Website under TWC – Who We Are) Our understanding of transition is birthed out of the transformative work done in us through our intimate relationship with God: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. God transforms us, creating the need for transitions in the world around us. Wisdom is embraced and available for when transitions in the natural are encountered.

In the current space of change The Warrior Commission is walking through, a transition in both the spiritual and the natural, God is calling us to embrace His heart for Unity. Unity is, according to Dictionary.com, “the state of being one; oneness.” In John 17:20-23 Jesus talks about the oneness between Himself and the Father and how He wants His disciples to have that same oneness, that same unity. It is a oneness that comes out of the glory which Father God gave to Jesus, and then Jesus gives to us. It is a supernatural gift, and from it, the world will know that we are loved by God.

In the Unified in the One Prayer, we are asking the Lord to bless us with the unity that flows from the glory Jesus shares. This unity is a work of the Holy Spirit in us, developing richer intimacy with God and greater synergy with one another. It commands a blessing (Psalm 133:3), bringing forward the beauty of our being branches all attached to the same vine (John 15:5); a definite reality of oneness.

Over the next five months or so, as we navigate these transitions, you are encouraged to say yes to God growing your unity with Him and one another. Say yes to believing for the glory that brings that unity and the transformation that flows from knowing you are truly loved beyond how you know love now. Say yes to God-dreams and God-desires as you are rooted and grounded in His love (Ephesians 3:17-19).

How is the Lord asking you to say yes to His Kingdom Unity?

Prophecy in Community: Practicing Insight and Action in Everyday Life

By Meagan Blessing

The term “prophetic” often brings to mind the idea of foretelling the future, particularly in the context of the Old Testament. A prophet was someone who sought guidance from God, received a message, and shared it. Today, the concept of being prophetic has expanded beyond the prophets. Christ lives within us; we can all hear from God directly.

A prophetic community is a group of people who are committed to listening to God. We make a conscious effort to tune in to His voice in various ways, helping us understand His desires for us, our community, and the world around us. If we strip away the religious terminology, you might say it’s about being intuitive. Webster’s dictionary describes intuition—often referred to as a “sixth sense”—as having “keen intuitive powers.” For us, this intuition is a person. Holy Spirit speaks within us, guiding our understanding.

As we learn to listen for God’s messages and share them, we strengthen our friendships with Him and each other. In any healthy relationship, open communication is crucial for growth. We have the incredible opportunity to spend time with God, asking Him anything that’s on our minds. He not only promises to respond but also offers fresh perspectives on our challenges.

JEREMIAH 33:3 TPT " CRY OUT TO ME AND I WILL ANSWER YOU. I WILL REVEAL TO YOU GREAT THINGS, GUARDED SECRETS THAT YOU NEVER COULD HAVE KNOWN."

What a privilege it is to engage in conversation with the One who loves us most! There’s no question too big or too small to ask God. I have found that Holy Spirit enjoys games. If I remember to consult Him about where to shop for groceries, He often sends me someplace new, and I’m surprised to find my needed items are on sale. This isn’t about pressing a “magic button” to get what we want, but rather about interacting with a loving Father who delights in blessing and guiding us when we turn to Him rather than relying solely on our own efforts.

So, let’s practice prophecy together. Let’s practice listening and responding. How can you weave new conversations with God into your routine today?

Delightful Inheritance

By Alma Copenhefer

As I talked to Papa about transitions, I heard him say, “Transitions are about upgrades.” Some transitions are planned; others catch us by surprise, leaving us with a feeling of uncertainty. I believe with upgrades, there are choices. Will we choose to step up, will we choose to stay put, or will we allow ourselves to lose our footing?

Psalm 16:5-6,8 says, “Lord, you have assigned me my portion in my cup. You have made my lot secure. The boundary lines have fallen for me in pleasant places, surely I have a delightful inheritance.” These verses speak to me about remaining confident through transitions because I am securely positioned within the boundaries the Lord has placed before me. I can trust that whatever is happening is for the purpose of leading me into the fullness of my inheritance. Verse eight helps anchor me, “I have set the Lord always before me; Because he is at my right hand, I will not be shaken.” As transitions may pose challenges, God’s promises position us for the taking of His provision and upgrades. God provokes us to trust in His faithfulness. He reminds us that His right hand upholds us, therefore, we will not be shaken.”

Last summer, I retired as an elementary school teacher. I had, over the course of two years, been talking to Papa about the timing of my retirement. I had expected to continue the upcoming school year, yet at the eleventh hour, I heard him say, “It’s time!” I expected to have a plan before making this move, but every time I asked Papa what He had in mind for the upcoming season, He would say, “I will shine my light up to the toes of your feet.” In this transition, God was inviting me to sit in quiet, and trust in the work He’d done in me thus far to carry me into what He has ahead. It’s been the realization that truly, nothing catches him by surprise!

You see, transitions may move our boundary lines, but the boundary lines have fallen for us in pleasant places. Surely we have a delightful inheritance.

Do you feel his prompting into the pleasant places of your inheritance?

How will you partner with Him to take hold of it?

Hearing God's Voice - Connecting to God's Heart

This fall, you are invited to be a part of an exploration of Hearing God's Voice and Connecting with His Heart. There will be three calls hosted over three months. Each call will be a great opportunity to go deeper into who God is for us individually and corporately, and to build our unity as a community.

These training calls will be hosted by Stacey Bebee and will support whatever training you are currently in, helping you get even more from your intimate journey with God. They are open to all Warriors and do not require any prerequisites.

The call links for these calls can be found under the "Events" tab in the Warrior Chat, and will be included in the Call Blasts. You are encouraged to plan ahead so you can be a part of these groundbreaking adventures.

Unity Sustains a Movement

By Christine Casten

As I continue to press into our unity with the One Impact Prayer (IP), several soundbites have been stirring in my spirit. Each of these could be explored for years to come—and I suspect the Lord will continue to unpack them in my heart. For now, I'd like to share a few of them with you, along with the thoughts God is beginning to breathe into each one.

Unity is not automatic.

We must press into unity. That means being watchful. Be aware of how the enemy tries to exploit weakness or division. It means refusing to give offense a foothold. Be quick to forgive. Be even quicker to pursue restoration. Choose to see the best in others and call it forward.

Unity makes room for diversity.

Unity doesn't mean sameness. We are intentionally wired differently. Some think strategically. Others build systems. Still others consider how to make the journey smoother. When each person offers their portion, we create something far richer through a beautiful and Spirit-led process of "what if" and "how to."

Creativity and synergy are born in tension.

The tension we face often unlocks the creativity needed to overcome obstacles or bring about refinement. Synergy doesn't mean the absence of difficulty. We find synergy in how people work together through trials, how they draw out the best in one another even when it's not easy. It's the Spirit moving among us in the midst of the strain.

Ego contributes nothing to a unified group.

Humility is essential. Especially in times of transition, we must trust not only in God, but in each other. Ego demands recognition; it diverts attention from what God is doing through the whole body. But meekness—strength under God's control—listens. It waits. It discerns when to speak, when to step in, and when to step back. Unity flows when each of us walks closely with the One and then walks as one in Him.

A move of God is never about one person.

Though history may spotlight a few visible leaders, true movements of God rise from the heart cries of many. God stirs a longing across the earth and deposits direction into many lives. We hinder the movement when we try to superimpose ourselves over the unified direction He is revealing.

The truth is—we need each other. Every person carries a piece of the garden they're called to steward with God. When we press into unity, we make room for the wild, beautiful variety of giftings, perspectives, and callings in the Body. That kind of unity can sustain a movement until it becomes the new normal. And from that unity, God is able to establish what's next—not just for now, but for the next wave of His heart.

Reflection Questions:

- Think of a time when a group began to falter. What helped restore unity?
- Are there barriers in your heart that resist unity—old wounds, assumptions, fear?
- Are those barriers rooted in real experiences or perceived truths?
- What does God say about them?

Five Prophetic Statements (2025)

The Five Statements below came together at the Radiant Sonship Conference in 2024. Each statement was formed from the words God gave us through the third year of our 3 Words, 3 Years gathering process. In the refining process God is revealing prophetic understanding through using the third year of this prophetic timeline through these statements. We can unify through God's prophetic direction and the promises He releases over us.

1. We deposit an abundance of wisdom houses to access kingdom strategies that have been preserved for the regal ones to enter into a marvelous refinement.
2. We are commissioned for *fragrance, bringing life and love, conquering the spirit of arkness, abundantly restoring the sons and daughters in the new era.
3. We marvel at the triumph of Jesus which gives us a place^ in apostolic authority, creating greater impact on the earth.
4. We are passionately and intentionally established in our inheritance as sons and daughters, igniting accelerated expansion, bringing God's kingdom to earth.
5. We stand in awe of Your empowering presence as a fluid consuming fire, sparking breakthrough and yielding a crop, celebrating our legacy going forth.

Unified in the One

TWC Impact Prayer, July 2025

Lord God,

*We seek to work in concert and collaboration in the power of unified purpose.
As we enter this new season, grant us the wisdom to build connection and develop a stronger Kingdom culture. Keep our eyes on You, the One who is our all in all – in one focus, one accord, and one passion.*

*We are stewards of this community, but Father, You cast the vision.
Open our communication lines with You and with each other.
Bring clarity to the words You share with us. Help us walk inspired by our connection with You and the stability of being together.
May we dream with Your heart and desires.*

We proclaim synergy continues, and brotherhood increases exponentially in The Warrior Commission. We continue to operate in humility and strengthen our culture of love. Grant us sensitivity so we can smoothly navigate the ins and outs of journeying together into this next season of growth.

As we flow from the cohesion of this foundation, increase the honor, love, and value we feel for each Warrior. May we undergird those around us and hold all things loosely, so they can be focused according to Your plans and purposes.

*Unify us as one in You. May we pursue one heart, one plan, one purpose, one destiny – the one You have had for us from the beginning of time.
Help us find the fulfillment of all You dream for The Warrior Commission to be and become. Amen.*

JOHN 17:22-23

AND THE GLORY WHICH YOU GAVE ME I HAVE GIVEN THEM, THAT THEY MAY BE ONE JUST AS WE ARE ONE: I IN THEM, AND YOU IN ME; THAT THEY MAY BE MADE PERFECT IN ONE, AND THAT THE WORLD MAY KNOW THAT YOU HAVE SENT ME, AND HAVE LOVED THEM AS YOU HAVE LOVED ME. (NKJ)
